

J. Scott Schanen
President, Consulting
EPIC Insurance Brokers & Consultants
Dallas, TX

Scott Schanen has dedicated his professional career to creating and implementing innovative, sustainable solutions for large commercial payers in the healthcare industry and currently serves as President of National Employer Consulting with EPIC.

He began his healthcare career during the formative years of UnitedHealth Group as they transitioned from an amalgamation of regional Health Maintenance Organizations to become the world's largest healthcare organization. In 1996, Scott founded Schanen Consulting, an Atlanta-based benefit consultancy recognized by peers and industry leaders as one of the premiere boutique benefits consulting firms, primarily serving Fortune 500 companies. To further its growth trajectory, in 2001 Scott merged Schanen Consulting with HCC Insurance Holdings Inc, a NYSE company. In 2007, Scott launched his second start-up, Dominion, a health and welfare benefit consultancy focused on serving the needs of large US employers. In 2014, Dominion was acquired by Integro, a global risk management firm where Scott serves as the CEO of Integro's National Benefits Consulting Practice.

Scott is a member of the Healthcare Innovation Initiative for The McCombs School of Business at The University of Texas at Austin and has served on a number of advisory boards in his career. He and his wife Lisa live in Dallas, Texas and enjoy spending time with their son Austin, a graduate of SMU, and their son Connor, a graduate at TCU. Scott holds a BBA from The University of Texas at Austin.
