

Amy Enrione
Associate Manager & Engagement
Manager
McKinsey & Company
Dallas, TX

Amy received her BBA in Business Honors and Management Information Systems (2016) from The University of Texas at Austin, as a Forty Acres Scholar. While at The University of Texas, Amy's main interest was getting students involved in community service, so she worked with the university administration to create a service requirement for all entering freshmen. She also served on the executive boards of the Friar Society, Texas Orange Jackets, the Management Consulting Association, and Austin Connect. Within the Business Honors Program, Amy worked as a Peer Mentor for two years, and was on the Make-A-Mark Committee. Amy is an Associate Manager & Engagement Manager at McKinsey & Company in Houston, Texas.
